Second Nature Resilience Commitment

The 2019 letter from Chancellor Rebecca Blank (Chancellor Rebecca Blank) indicates a Second Nature Resilience Commitment. The commitment is a significant step towards sustainability and resilience in the face of climate change. It includes a Climate Action and Adaptation Plan, which outlines strategies to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and prepare for the impacts of climate change. The plan is a comprehensive effort to ensure the university's operations are environmentally sustainable and resilient. The commitment is an important step in the university's journey towards a more sustainable future.
